BOOK I

CHAPTER 2

THE DEMOGRAPHIC STRUCTURE OF THE INDIAN SOCIETY

KEY POINTS

1. Demography

- Demography, a systematic study of population, is a Greek term derived from two words, 'demos' (people) and graphein (describe) description of people.
- it studies births, migration, sex composition etc
- Demography is broadly of two types:-
  - Formal demography which is concerned with quantitative measurement and analysis of population change.
  - Social demography which deals with social, economic and political aspects of population.
- Since, before Independence India has conducted a ten yearly (decennial) census. So, far, seven decennial censuses has been conducted since 1951 and the most recent one being 2011.
- The demographic data collected is essential for the planning and implementation of state policies, for economic development and public welfare.

2. Theories of population

A. Thomas Robert Malthus (1766-1834) states the fact that-

- Population increases at a much faster rate than the means of subsistence, (food, Clothing).

- Population rises in geometric progression (ie 2, 4, 8, 16, 32 etc.) at a much faster rate than the means of human subsistence / agricultural production which grows in arithmetic progression (ie 2, 4, 6, 8, 10 etc.)
- Prosperity can be achieved by controlling growth of population through preventive checks - postponing marriage, sexual abstinence, celibacy etc. and positive checks - through famines and diseases.

Criticism of Malthus's theory:

- Malthus was 'criticised'
  - (a) Food production and standards of living rise despite rapid population growth as seen in the historical experience of European countries.
  - (b) Poverty, and starvation is caused not due to rise in population but due to unequal distribution of economic resources (Liberal and Marxists).

B. Theory of Demographic Transition

- This theory highlights three stages of population growth from an underdeveloped & technologically backward stage to a developed technologically advanced stage.

STAGE	SOCIETY	LEVEL OF DEVELOPMENT	GROWTH RATE (GR)
-------	---------	----------------------	------------------

1	Underdevelopment	Technologically Backward	GR+High
---	------------------	--------------------------	---------

2	Transition	Movement from backward	BR high + Low DR
---	------------	------------------------	------------------

	Population to advance		= increase in GR
--	-----------------------	--	------------------

	Explosion
--	-----------	--	--

3	Advanced	Technologically advanced	Low BR+ Low DR
---	----------	--------------------------	----------------

			= Low GR
--	--	--	----------

- “Population explosion” occurs in transitional stage with death rate being lowered through disease control; better health and nutrition facility and unchanged reproductive behaviour.

3. Common concepts

- a. Birth rate : number of live births in a given area during a given time per 1000 population.
- b. Death rate : number of deaths in given area during a given time per 1000 population.
- c. Growth rate/rate fo natural increases-difference between birth rate and death rate.
- d. Fertility rate : number of live birth per 1000 women in the child bearing age group of 15-49 years.
- e. Ingant mortality rate : number of death of babies before the age of one year per 1000 live births.
- f. Maternal mortality: number of women dying in child birth per 1000 live birth.
- g. Sex ratio : number of females per 1000 males in a given area at a specified time period.
- h. Age structure of population - proportions of persons in different age groups relative to total population.
- i. Dependency ratio : proportion of dependents (elderly and people children) with working age group (ie 15 - 64 years)
  - A rising dependency ratio is a cause for worry in countries that are facing an aging population, since it becomes difficult for a relatively smaller proportion of working - age people to carry the burden of providing for a relatively larger proportion of dependents.
  - falling dependency ratio can be source of economic growth and prosperity due to the larger proportion of workers relative to non workers. It is also referred as 'demograhic devidend'
- j. When the deifference is zero (or, in practice, very small) then we say that the population has 'stabilised', or has reached the 'replacment level' which is the rate of growth required for new generations to replace the older ones that are dying out.
- k. Life expectancy : it refers to the estimated number of year that an average person is expected to survive.

- m. Sonogram : an x-ray like diagnostic device based on ultra-sound technology; sometime misused to determine the sex of the unborn child in mother's womb.

4. Famines are caused by high level of continuing poverty and malnutrition in an agro climatic environment that is effected by variations in rainfall, lack of adequate means of transportation and communication as well as inadequate efforts on the part of the state.

5. Several factors may be held responsible for the decline in the child sex ratio including-

- Severe neglect, of girl babies in infancy, leading to higher death rates;
- sex specific abortions that prevent girl babies from being born;
- And female infanticide (or the killing of girl babies due to religious or cultural beliefs).

6. There are regional variations of low child sex ratio in India.

- The regional pattern of low child sex ratios, in India, is that the lowest child sex ratios are found in the most prosperous regions of India.
- Punjab, Haryana, Chandigarh, Delhi, Gujarat and Maharashtra are among the richest states in India in terms of per capita incomes, and they are also the states with the lowest child sex ratio.
- So, the problem of selective abortions is not due to poverty or ignorance or lack of resources. Economically prosperous families decide to have fewer children and they may wish to choose the sex of their child.

7. Role of literacy in population growth

- Literacy is a prerequisite to education.
- Literacy is an instrument of empowerment.
- The more literate the population the greater the consciousness of career options, as well as participation in the knowledge economy.
- Literacy can lead to health awareness and fuller participation in the cultural and economic wellbeing of the community.

- Literacy varies considerably across gender, across regions & social groups
- Literacy rates also vary by social group : historically disadvantaged communities like the Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes have lower rates of literacy and rates of female literacy within these groups are even lower.
- Regional variations are still very wide, with states like Kerala approaching universal literacy, while states like Bihar are lagging far behind.

8. Epidemic has been controlled due to mass vaccination, better sanitation. But malaria, TB, diarrhoea and dysentery kill people even today.

9. Birth rate is slow to change due to socio cultural phenomenon. Low TFR's in Kerala, Tamil Nadu, Himachal Pradesh, West Bengal, Karnataka, Maharashtra; high TFR's States – Bihar, MP, Rajasthan & UP.

10. Rural-urban differences also exist with respect to the vast majority of the population.

- It is the mass media & communication channels that are gradually bringing in images of urban life styles & patterns of consumption into the rural villages, this bridges the gap between rural & urban.
- The rapid growth in urbanization (town or city) has been attracting the rural population.
- Those who cannot find work (or sufficient work) in the rural areas go to the city in search of work.
- This flow of rural-to-urban migration has also been accelerated by the continuous decline of common property resources like ponds, forests and grazing lands.
- Now, these resources have been turned into private property, or they are exhausted. (Ponds may run dry or no longer provide enough fish; forests may have been cut down and have vanished...)
- People no longer have access to these resources, but on the other hand have to buy many things in the market that they used to get free. The opportunities for earning income are limited in the villages.

- The city also may be preferred for social reasons, specially the relative anonymity it offers.
- The fact that urban life involves interaction with strangers can be an advantage for different reasons. For the socially oppressed groups like the Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes, this may offer some partial protection from the daily humiliation, they may suffer in the village where everyone knows their casts identity. The anonymity of the city also allows the poorer sections of the socially dominant rural grops to engage in low status work that they would not be able to do in the village.
- All these reasons make the city an attractive destination for the villagers.

11. National family planning programme

- It was introduced with the objective of slowing down the rate & pattern of population growth, through birth-control methods and improve public health standards. Other coercive measures was introduced during the Emergency Period (1975-1976)
- With the coming of a new Govt. the program was renamed as National Family Welfare Program with new set of guidelines to achieve the objectives.

12. Success and failures of the family planning programme.

Success

- The growth rate of population has decreased.
- People have started appreciating small family norms.
- The infant mortality rate and maternal mortality rate has been brought down.
- Life expectancy has increased.
- Achieved nearly universal awareness of the need for and methods of family planning.

Failures

- The growht rate sill continues to be high as compared to developed nations.

- Coercive family planning programme has been opposed by people (Vasectomy for men & Tubectomy for women). Mostly poor and powerless people were the victims.
- Lack of availability of reliable family planning methods.

13. Age structure of India's population.

- India is one of the youngest countries in the world—majority of Indians tend to be young.
- The average age is also less than that for most other countries.
- The share of the 15-60 age group has increased slightly, while the share of the 60+ age group is very small.
- The present trend indicates that 0-14 age group will reduce, thus the changing age structure could offer a demographic dividend for India. These potential can be converted into actual growth with the increase level of education and employment.
- There are wide regional variations in the age structure. While a state like Kerala is beginning to acquire an age structure like that of the developed countries, some states like Uttar Pradesh have high proportions in the younger age groups and relatively low proportions among the aged.

SOCIAL INSTITUTIONS; CONTINUITY AND CHANGE

1. Caste and The Caste System

- A population is made up of inter-related classes and communities. These are sustained and regulated by social institutions and social relationships.
- Three institutions, Caste, Tribe and Family are central to Indian Society.
- "Caste" is a social institution that has been in existence for thousands of years.

2. Definitions of Caste :

- "Caste", an English word is derived from a Portuguese word "Casta", meaning pure breed. In Indian language it is referred to two distinct terms, Varna and Jati.

3. Varna & Jati

- Varna which literally means 'colour' refers to a fourfold division of society into hierarchical order Brahmana, Kshatriya, Vaishya and Shudra. It is an all India aggregative classification.
- Jati, is a regional or local sub-classification term consisting of hundred or thousands of castes and sub castes. (It is a generic term referring to species or kinds of anything ranging from inanimate objects to plants, animals & human beings.)

4. Vedic & post Vedic period

- During the Vedic period the caste system was elaborate, very rigid or determined by birth.
- But, in the post Vedic period it became very rigid with certain defining features such as caste being determined by birth, membership of caste adhering to strict rules of marriage, rules regarding food & food sharing, caste being traditionally linked to occupations and it being arranged in a hierarchy of rank and status.

5. Features of caste

- Caste is determined by birth
- Membership in a caste involves strict rules about marriage. Caste groups are "endogamous", i.e., marriage is restricted to members of the group.
- Caste membership also involves rules about food and food-sharing.
- Caste involves a system consisting of many castes arranged in a hierarchy of rank and status.
- Castes also involve sub-divisions with themselves
- Caste were traditionally linked to occupations.

6. Theoretical interpretation of caste

- Caste is a combination of two sets of principles —
- (1) Difference and separation. The scriptural rules ranging from marriage, food sharing to occupation prevents the mixing of castes.
- (2) Wholism and hierarchy : the hierarchical division of caste, on the other hand is based on the distinction between "purity and pollution."

7. In the caste system, Endogamy is the practice of marrying within the caste. Exogamy is the practice of marrying outside the clan or gotra.

8. A proprietary caste group is a group that owns most of the resources and can command labor to work for them.

9. Caste panchayats are panchayats which are controlled by the dominant group and represent their interests, needs & demands. Primarily decision making is controlled by the upper caste, rich landlords and landless peasants.

10. Caste in Present day

- In the contemporary period the caste system has become

'invisible' for the upper caste, urban middle and upper classes. Because it has already benefited these groups."

- Caste has been shaped as a result of the influence of the colonial period and changes brought about in independent India.
- The British undertook methodical and intensive surveys of various tribes and castes in order to learn how to govern the country effectively.
- The first such survey was carried out by Herbert Risley in 1901 and thus caste began to be counted and recorder.
- Other institutions like the land revenue settlement gave legal recognition to the coustomary rights of the upper caste.

11. The Govt. India Act of 1935 gave legal recognition to the lists of 'schedules' of castes and tribes.

- Gradually, towards the end of the colonial period the welfare of downtrodden caste was looked after by the administration.

12. In Post Independent India, programs were undertaken for the upliftment of depressed classes. Social reformers like Jyotiba Phule, Periyar etc. worked towards lower caste upliftment, abolition of caste distinctions and other restrictions.

13. The abolition of caste was explicitly incorporated in the Constitution by the state. During this period some of the steps undertaken were reservation of seats for SC & ST's, no caste rules in the jobs created in the modern industry, urbanization & collective living in cities and stress on meritocracy.

14. In the cultural & domestic spheres, caste has remained unaffected by moernization and change while in the sphere of politics it has been deeply conditioned by caste as formation of caste based political parties.

15. New concepts were coined to understand the process of change. The terms were sanskritization and dominant caste by M.N. Srinivas.

16. Sanskritization is a process whereby members of a caste (usually middle a lower) attempt to raise their social status by adopting the rituals & social practices of the higher caste.

17. Dominant caste was those which had a large population and were granted landrights. They were politically, socially and economically dominant in their regions for example : the Yadavs of Bihar and Uttar Pradesh, and

Vokkaligas of Karnataka, the Reddys and Khammas of Andhra Pradesh, the Marahas of Maharashtra, of Jats of Punjab, Haryana, and Western Uttar Pradesh and the Patidars of Gujarat.

18. In the contemporary period caste has tended to become invisible for the upper caste, urban middle and upper classes and more visible for the lower caste.

19. TRIBAL COMMUNITIES

Definition of tribes

- The oldest inhabitants of the sub-continent.
- Tribes were communities that did not practice a religion with a written text.
- did not have a state or political form of the formal kind;
- did not have sharp class divisions; and
- they did not have caste distinctions

20. Classification of Tribal Societies

21. The 'isolation' and 'Intengration' debate on tribes is based upon tribal societies as isolated wholes. The isolationist believe that tribals needed protection from traders, moneylenders and Hindu and Christian missionaries, all of whom try to reduce tribals' to detribalised landless labour. The integrationists, believe that tribal's are merely backward Hindus, and their problems had to be addressed within the same framework as that of other backward classes.

22. National development involving the building of large dams, factories and mines were undertaken at the expenses of the tribes. Eg. Narmada Bachao Aandolan.

National Development Vs. Tribal Development

- National Development involving the building of large dams, factories and mines were undertaken at the expense of the tribes.
- Tribals have paid disproportionate price for the development of the rest of Indian Society.
- The loss of the forests on which tribal communities depended has been a major blow.
- Coming of private property adversely affected tribals, especially their community based collective ownership.
- Heavy in migration of non-tribals threatens to disrupt their culture.

23. Tribal identities today are centered on idea's of resistance and opposition to the force exercised by the non-tribal world. The formation of Jharkhand and Chhattisgarh has been a result of this assertion of tribal identity but the political system is still not autonomous.

24. Tribal movements emerged to tackel issues relating to control over vital economic resources, matters of cultural identity. All this has been made possible due to the gradual emergence of an educated middle class among tribal communities, though the assertion of identity of tribal middle class maybe different from a poor and uneducated one.

22. Family and Kinship

A. Family can be nuclear or extended. Modern family consists of only one set parents and their children unlike extended family where that is more than one couple and after more than two generations living together.

B. Diverse forms of family

Diverse forms of family are :

23. Kinship are connections between individuals, established either through marriage or through the lines of descent that connect blood relatives (mothers, fathers, siblings, offspring, etc.)

24. The Khasi matriliney highlights the distinction between matriliney and matriarchy.

- There is an inherent disagreement in matrilineal systems. On the one hand, the line of descent and inheritance, where a woman inherits property from her mother and passes it on to her daughter and the other structure of authority and control where a man controls his sister's property and passes on control to his sister's son. The former, which links the mother to the daughter, comes in conflict with the latter; which links the mother's brother to the sister's son.

- Khasi matriliney generates intense role conflict for men. They are torn between responsibilities to their natal house on the one hand, and to their wife and children on the other.
- The tension generated by such role conflict affects Khasi women more intensely. A woman can never be fully assured that her husband does not find his sister's house a more pleasant place than her own.
- The women are more badly affected than men, by the role conflict generated in the Khasi matrilineal system, not only because men wield power and women are deprived of it, but also because the system is more lenient to men.
- Thus, men are the power holders in Khasi society; the only difference is that a man's relatives on his mother's side matter more than his relatives on his father's side.

THE MARKET AS A SOCIAL INSTITUTION

---

1. Market refers to a place where things are bought and sold, a gathering of buyers and sellers (weekly vegetable market) or a category of trade or business (market for Cars / readymade clothes).

- Sociologists view market as social institutions that are constructed in culturally specific ways and are socially 'Embedded' eg weekly tribal haat and traditional business community.
- Weekly markets bring together people from surrounding villages, sell their agricultural produce, buy manufactured goods, attract traders, money lenders, astrologers and other specialists and to meet kin, arrange marriages etc. These periodic markets link different regional and local economies together, and link them to the wider national economy, towns and metropolitan centres.
- 'Virtual Market' — A market that exists only electronically, and conducts transactions via computers and telecommunication media.
- The market does not exist in a physical sense, but only in terms of data that are stored electronically.

2. Adam Smith in his book "The Wealth of Nations" talked of an "unseen force" (invisible hand) at work, in the market economy, that converts what is good for each individual into what is good for society. This stimulates the economy and more wealth is created. This can be brought forth through the economic philosophy of laissez faire, a French phrase, meaning 'leave alone' or 'let it be'.

3. Alfred Gells' Dhorai market (Adivasi village market in Bastar) layout symbolizes the hierarchical inter-group social relations, going beyond to economic function.

Market Layout at Dhorai

4. Caste and kin networks contribute to the success of a business

A. Pre colonial India had extensive trading network, (India major exporter of handloom cloth spices etc.) merchant group and banking credit systems (Hundi) or bill of exchange existed eg Nattu Kottai Chettars (Nakarattars) of Tamil Nadu.

B. Among, the Nattukottai Chettiars (or caste such as Nakarattars), of Tamil Nadu, banking and trade activities were deeply embedded in the social organisation of the community.

- The structures of caste, kinship and family were oriented towards commercial activity and business activity was carried out within these social structures.
- Nakarattar banks were basically joint family firms, so that the structure of the business firm was the same as that of the family.
- Their extensive caste-based social networks allowed Chettair merchants to expand their activities into Southeast Asia and Ceylon.

C. The Traditional business communities in India are the Vaisyas, Parsis, Sindhis, Bohras and Jains.

5. A Concept of Colonialism —

- The ideology by which, a country seeks to conquer and colonise (forcibly settle, rule over) another.

- The colony becomes a subordinate part of the coloniser's country, and is exploited in various ways for the colonising country's gain.

B. The Advent of colonial rule in India led to the demise of the handloom industry. India became a source of raw material, agricultural products and consumers of manufactured goods.

- It led to the flooding of the market with cheap manufactured textiles from England.
- In the colonial era India began to be more fully linked to the world capitalist economy.
- New groups (especially the Europeans) entered into trade and business, sometimes in alliance with existing merchant communities and in some cases by forcing them out.
- In some cases, new communities emerged to take advantage of the economic power even after Independence.

C. The expansion of market economy brought in new communities taking advantage of available opportunities to control/hold economic power even after independence eg. Marwaris.

- The Marwaris became a successful business community only during the colonial period, when they took advantage of new opportunities in colonial cities such as Calcutta and settled throughout the country to carry out trade and also involve in money lending.
- Like the Nakhvatis, the success of the Marwaris rested on their extensive social networks which created the relations of trust necessary to operate their banking system.
- In the late colonial period and after Independence, some Marwaris families transformed themselves into modern industrialists, and even today Marwaris control more of India's industry than any other community.

6. Jajmani is an economic system where lower castes performed various functions for upper castes and received gains in return. It is also characterised by an unbroken hereditary relationship-wherein the kameen remains obliged to render services throughout his life to a particular jajman. Due to the permanency of relationship both the jajman and kameen families become mutually dependent on each other.

7. (A) Concept of Capitalism (Karm Marx)

- Is a system of commodity production for the market, through use of wage labour.
- private property and the market have penetrated all sectors, converting everything including labour power into a saleable commodity;
- two main classes exist - a mass of wage labourers who own nothing but their labour power (their capacity to perform labour) and a class of capitalists who, in order to serve as capitalists, must invest their capital and earn increasing profits in a competitive market economy.

(B) Mode of production → relation of production → class structure

(C) Capitalism → Capitalists + Workers → Surplus Value

8. A Commodity: A good or service that may be bought or sold in the market.

B. Commoditisation / Commodification : Transformation of a non-commodity into a commodity Eg. Sale of kidney, Labor, Skills, marriage bureau etc.

Commoditication occurs when things that were earlier not traded in the market become commodities.

- For instant, labour or skills
- the sale of human body organs like kidney by the poor to cater to rich
- In contemporary India, things or processes that earlier were not part of market exchange have become commodified.
- Traditionally, marriages were arranged by families, but now there are professional marriage bureaus and websites that help people to find brides and grooms for a fee.

- In earlier times, social skills such as good manners and etiquettes were imparted mainly through the family. Now, there are many private institutes that offers courses in 'personality development', spoken English, and so on, that teach students (mostly middle class youth) the cultural and social skills required to succeed).
- There are also a growing member of privately owned schools and colleges and coaching classes as a process of commodification of education.

Pushkar Mela

- The growing market for international tourism also suggests how culture itself may become a commodity. An example is the famous annual fair in Pushkar, Rajasthan, to which pastoralists and traders come from distant places to buy and sell mets and other livestock.
- While the Pushkar fair continues to be a major social and economic event for local people, it is also marketed internationally as a major tourist attraction.
- The fair is attractive to tourists because it comes just before a major Hindu religious festive of the Poornima, when pilgrims come to bathe in the holy Pushkar Lake.

C. Consumption : final use of goods and services by people (consumers), means by which social distinctions are created and communicated (eg. Advertisements).

D. Labour power : Capacity for labour the mental and physical capabilities of human beings, that are used in the process of production. (As different from labour, which is work performed).

9. Status symbol (Max Weber) goods bought related to people' status in society (eg. Cell phone, brand of car etc.).

- For example, among the middle class in India today, the brand of cell phone or the model of car that one owns is important markers of socio-economic status.
- Consumption is one aspect of lifestyle, but it also includes the way you decorate your home and the way you dress, your leisure activities, and may other aspects of daily life.

10. Globalization : a complex series of economic, social; technological, cultural and political changes that have increased the independence, integration and inter action among people and economic actors (companies) in different location (eg. BPO, Yoga, Pushkar).

11. World is increasingly getting connected.

- The software services industries and business process outsourcing (BPO) industries (uch as call centres) are some of the major avenues through which India is getting connected to the global economy.
- Companies based in India provide low-cost services and labour to customers located in the developed countries of the West. There is now a global market for Indian software labour and other services.

12. Marketisation use of market or market based processes to solve social political or economic problems.

13. Liberalization : The process whereby state controls over economic activity are relaxed and left to the market forces to decide.

Advantages

- Liberalisation stimulates economic growth and opens up the Indian markets to foreign companies. Thus, many foreign branded goods are now sold, which were not previously available.
- Increasing foreign investment is supposed to help economic growth and employment.

Disadvantages

- Some sectors of Indian industry (like software and information technology) or agriculture (like fish or fruit) may benefit from access to a global market.
- Other sectors (like automobiles, electronics or oilseeds) will lose beause they cannot compete with foreign producers.
- For example, Indian formers are now exposed to competition from farmers in other countries because import of agricultural products is allowed.
- Many farmers are not able to make a decent living from agriculture because of Liberalisation when support prices and subsidies are reduced or withdrawn.

- Small manufactures also have been exposed to global competition, as foreign goods and brands have entered the market, and some have not been able to compete.
- The privatisation or closing of public sector industries has led to loss of employment in some sectors. There has been a growth of unorganised, sector employment at the expense of the organised sector. This is not good for workers because the unorganised sector does not generally offer better pay and regular permanent jobs.

14. Support price : Price at which government agree to buy agricultural, Commodities, ensure minimum income for farmers.

Subsidies : Government pays paid of the price charged for inputs, lowers cost of farming.

PATTARNS OF SOCIAL INEQUALITY AND EXCLUSION

1. Social Inequality

- It is inevitable and almost natural in our everyday life.
- Patterns of unequal access to social resources are commonly called social inequality.
- Social inequality and exclusion are social as these are –
  - Not-about individuals but groups.
  - Not just economic though a link is found between social & economic inequality.
  - is systematic & structured.

2. Social Exclusion

- It refers to ways in which individuals may become cut off from full involvement in the wider society.
- It prevents individuals or groups from participating fully in the economic, social and political life of the society, in which they live.
- It is a combined outcome of deprivation and discrimination.
- Social exclusion is structural not accidental; i.e., it is a result of social processes and institutions rather than individual action.
- It is involuntary - that is, exclusion is practiced regardless of the wishes of those who are excluded.
- For example, rich people are never found sleeping on the pavements or under bridges like thousands of homeless poor people in cities and towns. This does not mean that the rich are being 'excluded' from access to pavements and park benches, because they could certainly gain access if they wanted to, but they choose not to.

4. Social stratifications

- It is a system in which categories of people are ranked in a hierarchy in a Society. This is a system of structured inequalities.
- 3 Key principles of social stratification–
  - It is characteristic of society not simply a function of individual differences.
  - It persists over generations
  - It is supported by patterns of beliefs or ideology.

5. Prejudice

- It refers to preconceived opinions or attitudes held by members of one group towards another.
- It is an opinion formed before considering any available evidence.
- It is a preconceived view that is often based on hearsay rather than on direct evidence.
- Ideas that are resistant to change even in the face of new information.

6. Stereotypes

- Prejudices are grounded in stereotypes : which are fixed and inflexible characterisations of a group of people.
- Stereotypes are often applied to ethnic and racial groups and to women.
- Stereotypes fix whole groups into single, homogenous categories;
- they refuse to recognize the variation across individuals and across contexts or across time.

7. Discrimination refers to actual practices / behaviour towards another group, disqualifying a group from opportunities open to others.

8. Caste-is a discriminatory system as :

- Birth decides an individual's position in caste hierarchy
- social status in caste hierarchy decides the occupation for an individual

9. Strong co-relation is seen between higher caste & higher economic status of people.

10. Untouchability prescribes strong social sanctions against members of the castes located at the bottom of the purity - pollution scale.

11. Three dimensions of untouchability are -

- Exclusion : Dalits experience forms of exclusion that are unique and not practised against other groups - for instance, being prohibited from sharing drinking water sources or participating in collective religious worship, social ceremonies and festivals.

Humiliations & subordination : The practice of untouchability leads to the imposition of gestures of deference as well as abuse and humiliation, (such as taking off headgear, carrying footwear in the hand, standing with bowed head, not wearing clean or 'bright' clothes, and so on)

- Exploitation : untouchability is most of the times associated with economic exploitation of various kinds, through the imposition of forced, unpaid labour or the confiscation of property.

12. Meaning of dalit :

- 'Dalit' term literally means downtrodden and conveys the sense of an oppressed people.
- The Dalit Panthers, a radical group that emerged in western India, used the term to assert their identity as part of their struggle for rights and dignity.

13. State and Non-state Initiatives addressing Caste & tribe discrimination.

State Initiatives

- Reservation of seats in state and central legislatures.
  - Reservation of jobs in Government services.
  - Reservation of seats in educational institutions.
  - Abolition of untouchability-Article 17.
  - Caste Disabilities Removal Act. 1850.
  - Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes (prevention of atrocities) Act. 1989.
- Non-State initiatives-(Movements & Struggles)
  - In pre-independence time, efforts made by Jyotiba Phule, Periyar, Ambedkar and others.
  - In contemporary times efforts made by political organizations like Bahujan Samaj Party in U.P., Dalit sangharsh Samiti of Karnataka.
  - Literary contributions-creating Dalit awareness specially in Marathi, Tamil, Kannada, Telugu & Hindi.

14. Other Backward classes/OBCs are described as socially & educationally backward. Largely the service and artisanal castes who occupied the lower rungs of the caste hierarchy.

Other Backward Classes (OBC's)

- Commission appointed to look into measures for the welfare of OBC's are
  - (a) Lala Kalelkar
  - (b) Mandal Commission
- Upper OBC's are largely landed castes and enjoyed dominance in rural society in many regions of India while the lower OBC's are very poor & disadvantaged and are often not very different from Dalits in Socio-Economics terms.

15. Adivasi Struggles

- Term Adivasi, coined in the 1930s,
- It connotes political awareness and the assertion of rights,

- literally meaning 'original inhabitants'.
- 'Internal colonialism' faced by tribals in the name of national development (Government monopoly over forests, mining industries, displacement from their lands, dam projects acquisition of land by government).

16. Struggle for Women's Equality and Rights

- Various Women's issues arose in modern India as part of the nineteenth century middle class social reform movements. They were —
  - The anti-sati campaign led by Raja Rammohan Roy in Bengal who established the Brahma Samaj in 1828, campaign against sati, child marriage and efforts were made for widow remarriage.
  - Ranade started the widow remarriage movement in the Bombay Presidency and also attacked the caste and gender oppression.
  - Jotiba Phule who founded the Satyashodak Samaj, was against caste and gender discrimination.
  - The social reform movement in Islam was led by Sir Syed Ahmed Khan who worked for education of girls.
  - Dayanand Sarawati of the Arya Samaj, worked for women's education and training in the arts of housekeeping and handicrafts and earing of children.
  - Ishwar Chandra Vidyasagar worked for widow remarriage and fought against child marriage.
- Main features of the Women's Movement in India since the 1970s
  - There has been changes in organisational structure as well as ideology. There has been an increasing importance of autonomous movements and organisations not linked to any political party.
  - New issues such as violence against women, the rape of women in police custody, dowry, murders, legal changes in land rights, employment have emerged. In 21st century, declining sex ratio, implicit serial bias against the girl child are the new challenge of gender in equality.

- Recognition of the fact that though all women suffer in a patriarchal society, they do not all suffer in the same way or to the same extent—there are differences between middle class urban women, peasant women, Dalit women etc.
- Recognition that both women as well as men are oppressed by gender roles a gender-just society will allow both men and women to be free.

17. Karachi Session of the Indian National Congress

- In 1931, the Karachi Session of the Indian National Congress issued a declaration on the Fundamental Rights of Citizenship in India which was committed to women's equality. The declaration reads as follows :
- All citizens are equal before the law, irrespective of religion, caste, creed or sex.
- No disability attaches to any citizen, by reason of his or her religion, caste, creed or sex, in regard to public employment, office of power of honour, and in the exercise of any trade or calling.
- The franchise shall be on the basis of universal adult suffrage.
- Woman shall have the right to vote, to represent and the right to hold public offices.
- Special protection of women workers
- Equal rights and duties for all in regard to public wells, schools etc.

18. Stree Purush Tulana written in 1822, by a Maharashtrian housewife, Tarabai Shinde as a protest against the double standards of a male dominated society.

A young Brahmin widow had been sentenced to death by the courts for giving birth to an illegitimate child. No efforts had been made to identify or punish the man who had fathered the baby.

19. Begum Rokeya Sakhawat Hossain, written in 1905, wrote Sultana's Dream. It is a short story and the earliest example of science fiction writing in India. In her dream, Sultana visit a magical country where the gender roles are reversed. Men are confined to the home and observe 'purdah' whgile women are busy scientists vying with each other at inventing devices that will control the clouds and regulate rain, and machines that fly or 'air-cars'.

Disability has some common features to the public perception thus making it social.

- (i) Disability is understood as a biological gain.
- (ii) Whenever, a disabled person is confronted with problems, it is taken for granted that the problems originate from his/her important.
- (iii) The disabled person is seen as a victin.
- (iv) Disability is supposed to be linked with the disabled individual's self perception.
- (v) The very idea of disability suggest that they are in need of help.

The disabled are rendered disabl;ed not because they are biologically disabled but because society renders them so.

20. There is a close relationship between disability and poverty. Malnutrition, mothers weakened by frequent childbirthj, inadequate immunisation programmes, accidents in overcrowded homes, all contribute to incidences of disability among poor people that is higher than among people living in easier circumstances. Disability also creates poverty by increasing isolation and economic strain, not just for the individual but for the family.

CHAPTER 6

CHALLENGES TO CULTURAL DIVERSITY

---

The term 'diversity' emphasises differences rather than inequalities.

1. India is a culturally diverse country having communities of different religions, languages, sects, races and castes.

2. Cultural identities can be a challenge if competition, conflict or social, economic inequalities exist among them.

The importance of community identity

- Our community provides us with languages (our mother tongue) and cultural values. It also anchors our self identity.
- Expanding and overlapping circles of communities (family, kinship, caste, region or religion). They give us a sense of identity of who we are.
- People react emotionally or even violently whenever there is a perceived threat to their community identity.

3. Community identities are universal

- ascriptive, based on birth rather than choice.
- give a sense of security and identity.

4. Nation is a large scale community consisting of different communities. A state refers to an abstract entity consisting of a set of political legal institutions claiming control over a particular geographical territory & people living in it.

- Nation States are communities that have a state of their own in the modern world.

5. States feel threatened by the cultural diversity and adopt ASSIMILATION or INTEGRATION policies to create a harmonious society.

6. Assimilation Policy : aim at persuading, encouraging or forcing all citizens to adopt a uniform set of cultural values and norms.

7. Integration Policy : Aim at restricting public culture to common national pattern while a non-national cultures to be limited to the private sphere.

8. Indian Nation State

- Population-1,029 million.
- Languages & dialect — 1,632
- Religions — Hindus (80.5%), Muslims (13.4%), Christians (2.3%), Sikhs (1.9%), Buddhist (0.89%), Jains (0.4%).

Indian nation state has adopted neither assimilationist nor integrationalist model.

Why is it easy to describe a nation but had to define it?

A nation is a peculiar sort of community but is easy to describe but hard to define. Nations can be founded on the basis of common cultural, historical and political institution like a shared religion, language, ethnicity, history or regional culture.

However for every possible criterion these are exceptions and counter examples.

The criterion that comes closest to distinguishing a nation is the state.

Unlike the other kinds of communities, nations are communities that have a state of their own. That is why the two are joined with a hyphen to form the term nation state.

How do assimilationist and integrationist strategies try to establish singular national identities.

Interventions are :

- Centralising all powers to forums where the dominant group constitutes a majority, and eliminating the autonomy of local or minority groups.
- Imposing a unified legal and judicial system based on the dominant groups traditions and abolishing alternative systems used by other groups.
- Adopting the dominant groups language as the only official national language and making its use mandatory in all public institutions.
- Promotion of the dominant groups languages and culture through national institution including state controlled media and educational institutions.

- Adoption of state symbols, celebrating the dominant groups history, traditions and culture, choice of national holidays or naming of streets etc.
- Seizure of lands, forests & fisheries from minority groups and indigenous people and declaring them "National resources."

In terms of the nation-states relationship with community identities, the Indian case fits neither the assimilationist nor the integrationist model.

The constitution declares the state to be a secular state, but religion, language and other such factors are not banished from the public sphere. By international standards very strong constitutional protection is offered to minority religions.

- Regionalism in India is rooted in India's diversity of languages, cultures, tribes and religions. It is also encouraged by the geographical concentration of these identity markers in particular regions.
- Regionalism in India is rooted in India's diversity of languages, cultures, tribes and religions. It is also encouraged by the geographical concentration of these identity markers in particular regions.
- Language coupled with regional and tribal identity are the most powerful instrument for the formation of ethnonational identity of India. However all linguistic communities have not got statehood.
- Indian federalism and the three lists of subject.

There are lists of subjects or areas of governance which are the exclusive responsibility of either states or center along with a concurrent list, of areas where both are allowed to operate.

Privileged Minorities

Extremely privileged or wealthy people are not referred to as minorities.

Why should the minorities be given constitutional protection?

- Cultural minorities need special protection because of the demographic dominance of the majority.
- In democratic politics, it is always possible to convert a numerical majority into political power through elections.

- This means that religious or cultural minorities are politically vulnerable.
- Minorities also face the risk that the majority community will capture political power and use the state machinery to suppress their religious or cultural institutions, ultimately forcing them to abandon their distinctive identity.
- Article 29 and Article 30 are a part of the Indian constitution with special reference to Minorities and Cultural Diversity.

9. Regionalism is the ideology of commitment to a particular regional identity which could be based on language, ethnicity and other characteristics in addition to geography.

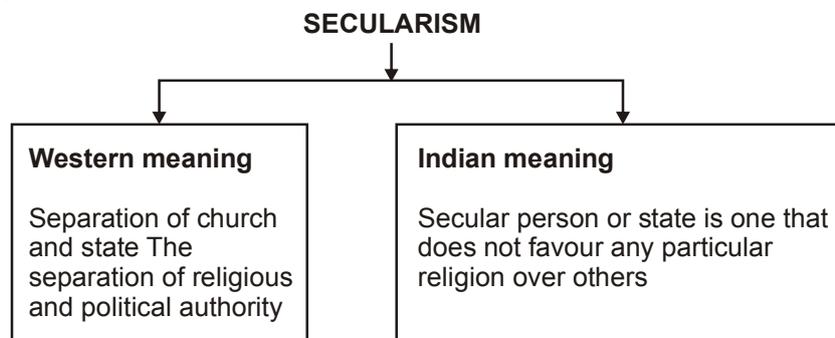

10. Sociologically minorities are a collective group, have a strong sense of solidarity feeling of togetherness and belonging having common experiences of disadvantages prejudices and discrimination.

11. Communalism refers to aggressive chauvinism based on religious identity where one religious group sees itself as a legitimate, superior and worthy with other groups being inferior illegitimate and opposed.

12. Characteristics features of communalism

- Cultivates aggressive political identity
- Religious identity overrides everything else.
- Communalism is a recurrent source of tension & violence in India—
  - Anti Sikh riots in Delhi in 1984
  - Anti Muslim riots in Gujarat in 2002

13.

14. Authoritarian State

- It is a state in which the people have no voice and those in power are not accountable to anyone. Authoritarian states often limit or abolish civil liberties like freedom of speech, freedom of the press, freedom of political activity, right to protection from wrongful use of authority, right to the due processes of the law, and so on.

15. Civil Society is the name given to the broad arena which lies beyond the private domain of the family but outside the domain of both state and market.

- Civil society is the non-state and non-market part of the public domain in which individuals get together voluntarily to create institutions and organizations. It is the sphere of active citizenship; here, individuals take up social issues, try to influence the state or make demands on it, pursue their collective interests or seek support for a variety of causes. It consists of voluntary associations, organisations or institutions formed by groups of citizens. It includes political parties, media institutions, trade unions, non-governmental organizations (NGOs).
- The Indian people had a brief experience of authoritarian rule during the 'Emergency'
  - enforced between June 1975 and January 1977.
  - Parliament was suspended
  - New laws were made directly by the government.
  - Civil liberties were revoked
  - Large number of politically active people were arrested and jailed without trial.
  - Censorship was imposed on the media and government officials could be dismissed without normal procedures.

Civil Society Activities

- Today the activities of civil society organizations have an even wider range, including advocacy and lobbying activity with national and international agencies as well as active participation in various movements.

- The issues taken up by Civil Society today are diverse.
  - tribal struggles for land rights.
  - devolution in urban governance.
  - campaigns against rape and violence against women.
  - rehabilitation of those displaced by dams and other developmental projects.
  - fishermen's struggles against mechanised fishing.
  - rehabilitation of hawkers and pavement dwellers.
  - campaigns against slum demolitions and for housing rights,
  - primary education reform.
  - distribution of land to dalits.
  - keeping a watch on the state and forcing it to obey the law and so on.
  - Among the most significant recent initiatives is the campaign for the Right to Information. It illustrates the crucial importance of civil society in ensuring that the state is accountable to the nations and its people. The answer to the RTI has to be given within 30 days.

BOOK 2

---

STRUCTURAL CHANGES

---

1. Colonialism can be understood as the rule by one country over another.

2. Pre-colonial rule invaders and rulers were interested in continuous flow of tribute but did not interfere with the socio-economic system in place.

3. Impact of colonial rule

- new land ownership laws introduced
- what crops to be grown was dictated.
- the way of production and distribution of goods was altered
- tea plantations were introduced
- Forest Acts changed the life of the pastoralists.
- Western education was introduced to create Indians who could assist in administration.
- Certain industries closed down as it could not compete with machine made goods from Europe.
- Old urban centres declined, while coastal cities were developed.
- unintended consequence was the growth of nationalism
- It led to considerable movement of people.

4. Many sided impact of English language on Indian society

5. Capitalism is an economic system in which the means of production are privately owned and is organised to accumulate profits within a market system.

6. Two structural changes brought about by colonialism.

- Urbanization
- Industrialization

Urbanization : Cities replaced villages as places to live for many (as living and working arrangements).

Industrialization refers to emergence of machine production based on the use of inanimate power resource like steam, or electricity.

De-industrialization : It is a process of social and economic change caused by the removal or reduction of industrial activity in a region. In India the impact of the very same British industrialisation led to deindustrialization in some sectors.

- decline of old urban centres. Just as manufacturing boomed in Britain, traditional exports of cotton and silk manufactures from India declined in the face of Manchester competition.
- This period also saw the further decline of cities such as Surat and Masulipatnam while Bombay and Madras grew.
- Cities were an expression of global capitalism.

7. Urbanisation and Industrialisation are linked processes.

- British industrialization led to deindustrialization in some sectors.
- Old urban centres like Surat, Masulipatnam, Dhaka, Murshidabad declined.
- Coastal cities like Bombay, Calcutta and Madras were developed for exporting new materials-cotton, jute, indigo, coffee-and importing machine made goods from Britain.

8. There is a vital difference between the empire building of pre-capitalist times and that of capitalist times.

- Pre capitalist conquerors did not interfere with the economic base. Whereas British colonialism was based on a capitalist system which directly interfered to ensure maximum profit.

- Every policy was geared towards the strengthening and expansion of British capitalism.
- It changed not just land ownership laws but decided even what crops out to be grown and what not.

9. Tea plantations

- Undemocratic measures were used to get work done by the workers, for the benefit of the 'British planters.
- The planters enjoyed lavish lifestyles.
- The workers worked under unjust contract and unfavorable conditions
- The planter and his family lived in huge bungalows surrounded by an army of liveried servants.
- The workers were recruited from far off places and many were injected with strange fevers.

10. Early industrialization in Independent India

- Development of heavy and machine making industries
- Expansion of public sector
- Development of a large cooperative sector.

A National Planning committee of 1938 was set up with Jawahar Lal Nehru as the Chairman and KT Shah as the General Editor. The major areas of focus were

- Agriculture and other sources of primary production.
- Exchange and finance
- Public utilities, transport and communication
- Education-general and technical.
- Women's role in a planned economy.

The Planning commission was set up in March 1950 by the resolution of the Government of India.

11. Urbanization in Independent India

- M.S.A. Rao identified the impact of urban influences on many Indian villages.
  - (a) Villages where sizable population are employed in far off cities or in overseas towns. Members of families are left behind.
  - (b) Villages situated near an industrial townlike Bhilai, Bokaro
  - (c) Villages surrounding ever expanding metropolitan cities like Delhi, Mumbai.

12. Difference between Western and Indian pattern of Industrialisation

- In western pattern of industrialization majority of people are employed in the service sector, while in India majority are in agriculture sector.
- In western pattern majority are formally employed and getting regular salaries. Whereas in India very few are in regular salaried employment.

CHAPTER 2

CULTURAL CHANGES

---

1. Cultural changes during colonialism rule can be understood at two levels–

- efforts of social reformers and nationalists
- Indirect-influence of four processes- sanskritisation, modernisation, secularisation and westernisation.

Social Reform Movements in the 19th & Early 20th Century

The well known issues or the social evils that plagued Indian society were

- Sti
- Child marriage
- Widow remarriage
- Caste discrimination

Caste discrimination was the central idea of reform for Buddhist, Bhakti and Sufi movements.

- The 19th Century social reform attempts was the modern contest and mix of ideas.
- Modern ideas of Western liberalisation and traditional literature were combined creatively.
- Social organisations like Brahma Samaj in Bengal and Arya Samaj in Punjab were set up.

2. Modern Framework of Change in Colonial India according to Sociologist Satish Saberwal

3. Sanskritisation (term coined by M.N. Srinivas) is a process by which some members of a low caste or tribe try to imitate/follow, the customs, ritual, beliefs, ideology and lifestyle of a high, in particular 'twice born' (drija) caste.

4. De-sanskritisation is the process where influence of non-Sanskritic castes was found to be dominant instead of high castes.

5. Sanskritisation has been criticised at different levels.

- No structural change only positional change for some individual.
- Assumption of upper castes as being superior hence to be imitated
- justification of the practice of inequality & exclusion as marked privileges of upper castes hence a discriminatory system.
- process that is gendered – though progressive for men, upper caste practices like purdah system, low age of marriage, dowry in place of bride price are regressive as far as women are concerned.
- Erosion of Dalit culture would be an expected outcome.

6. Assertion of Dalit identities in recent years & backward classes movement leading to rejection of upper caste culture.

7. Westernisation

- M.N. Srinivas defines Westernization as the changes brought about in Indian society and culture as a result of British rule, changes occurring in technology, institutions, ideology and values. He believed as lower castes sanskritised, the upper caste westernized by considering the British colonialists as reference group.

- Different kinds of westernization
  1. Emergence of a westernized sub-cultural pattern brought forward by the western educated middle class
  2. General spread of western cultural traits in the fields of food and eating habits, clothes and life-styles due working or serving the British colonialists over a long period.
  3. Impact of westernization can be seen in the fields of art, literature, music, architecture etc.
- In contemporary times, conflicts between generations are seen as cultural conflicts resulting from westernisation.

8. Modernization refers to improvement in technology, production processes; path of development taken by much of West Europe or North America.

- Modernisation assumes that local ties and parochial perspective give way to universal commitments and cosmopolitan attitudes
- a scientific and rational approach develops
- work is based on achievement not birth, individualism is encouraged.

9. Secularisation : In the west-modernization seems to have led to secularization a process of decline in the influence of religion especially in the public sphere.

10. Rituals have secular dimensions : It provides occasion to socialize with friends and kin. to show off wealth and style to enhance social status.

11. Secularisation of caste

- formation of caste based associations and political parties.
- seeking votes and fielding candidates on caste lines - assertion of rights, by caste based organisations

THE STORY OF INDIAN DEMOCRACY

1. Democracy is a government of the people, by the people and for the people.

2. Two kinds of categories are - DIRECT & REPRESENTATIVE.

Direct Democracy : all citizens without the intermediary of elected officials can participate in making public decisions is practical with small number of people for eg. tribal council, community organisation, local unit of a trade union etc.

Representative Democracy : citizen elect officials to represent them formulate laws and take decisions. Features of modern society with large populations.

For eg. - Municipal Boards State Assemblies, Parliament etc.

3. Participatory democracy : members of a group or community participate collectively in taking of major decisions for eg Panchayati Raj System.

Decentralised Democracy : It is the grass root level democracy.

4. Basis of the core values of Indian Democracy :

- Ancient-epics : like Mahabharata, various folk tales that has elements of dialogue, discussion and debates (essential requirements of democracy).
- Western theories on democracy : values like liberty, fraternity and equality derived from the French and the Russian revolutions.
- Karachi congress resolution 1931 which pointed out even before independence the goal of equal rights for all citizens across caste, gender and religion.

5. Basic objectives laid down by the constitution

- Empowerment of the poor and marginalised.

- Ending of caste discrimination
- Equality to all diverse groups.

6. Law carries the means to force obedience, has the power of state behind it. The essence of law is force and coercion.

Justice : essence of justice is fairness. It functions through the hierarchy of authorities and follow the basic procedured as prescribes in the constitution. A hierarchy of courts interpret the laws.

7. Constitution is a document based on the ideals on which a nation rests. It is the basic norm from which all other rules and authorities flow. The Supreme court is the highest court and the ultimate interpreter of the constitution.

8. Panchayati Raj literally translates to governnace by five individuals. The idea has been to create a vibrant democracy at the village or grassroots level.

- Three tier system of the Panchayati Raj has the Gram Sabha at the base.

9. Views of Panchayati Raj

- Dr. B.R. Ambedkar was critical of the Panchayati Raj system. He believed that local self-government meant giving extra power to the already dominating local elites and upper castes. Thus such a system would lead do further exploitation of the lower castes and the downtrodden.
- Mahatma Gandhi on the other hand believed in 'gram swarajya', i.e., village self-governance as an ideal model to adopt after Independence. He envisioned villages as self sufficient units and hence supported Panchyayati Raj System.

10. 73rd amendment of constiitution in 1992 introduced grass root democracy or decentralised governance, granting various provisions :-

- Constitutional status to the Panchayati Raj institution (PRIs)
- Local self government bodies in rural and municipal area to be elected every 5 years.
- Control of local resources given to the elected local bodies.

11. 74th Constitutional amendment

- Reservation of one third of total seats for women in rural and urban local elected bodies.

- 17% of seats reserved for women of scheduled castes & tribes.

12. Various powers & responsibilities undertaken by Panchayats.

- To prepare plans and schemes for economic development
- To ensure social justice
- To levy, collect and appropriate taxes, tolls and fees
- To maintain burning and burial grounds.
- To keep record of birth and death.
- To propagate family planning
- To establish child care and maternity centres.
- To construct roads, buildings, schools for community use.

13. Main source of income for Panchayats

- Taxes levied on property, profession, animals, vehicles
- Cess on land revenue and rentals
- Grants received through the Zilla Panchayat

14. Nyaya Panchayat are constituted in certain villages. They have authority to pass judgement on petty civil and criminal cases, they can impose fines but cannot award sentences.

15. Van Panchayat these are environmental groups comprising mostly of village women who develop nurseries and nurture tree saplings. They also guard nearby forests to check illegal deforestation.

- Many tribal areas have a rich tradition of grassroots democracy. 'Durbar Kur'.
- A large chunk of tribal areas lie outside the provisions of 73rd Amendment as the policy makers did not wish to interfere with the traditional tribal institutions.

16. Interest groups : are organized to pursue specific interest in the political arena operating primarily by lobbying with the members of legislative bodies.

Pressure Groups

- Industrialist form associations such as FICCI Assocham. Workers from trade unions such as INTUC, CITU. Farmers form unions like Shetkari Sangathan.

- A political party is an organisation oriented towards achieving legitimate control of government through an electoral process.

CHAPTER 4

---

CHANGE AND DEVELOPMENT IN RURAL SOCIETY

---

1. Indian Society is primarily a rural society. Agriculture and related occupations are the source of livelihoods for the majority of rural population.

- Many of our cultural practices and patterns can be traced to our agrarian backgrounds.
- Pongal in Tamil Nadu, Bihu in Assam, Baisakhi in Punjab and Ugadi in Karnataka.

2. Occupation of the rural population

- Agriculture is the single most important source of livelihood for the majority of the rural population.
- Many activities also support agriculture and village life and are also sources of livelihood for people in rural India. For example, a large number of artisans such as potters, carpenters, weavers, ironsmiths, and goldsmiths are found in rural areas;
- Rural life also supported many other specialists and crafts persons as storytellers, astrologers, priests, water-distributors, and oil-pressers.

3. Diversity of occupations in rural India is reflected in the caste system. Explain.

- Rural life also supports many other specialists and crafts persons as storytellers, astrologers, priests, water-distributors and oil-pressers.
- The diversity of occupations in rural India is reflected in the caste system which in most regions includes specialist and 'service' castes such as Washermen, Potters, and Goldsmiths.

- In rural areas no straight forward relationship exists between caste and class. In many cases there is a correspondence between caste and class as one moves down the hierarchy but in some cases it is not so for eg. Brahmins the higher castes are not the major landowners.
- The term agrarian structure is often used to refer to the structure or distribution of landholding.
- Examples of the dominant landowning groups are the Jats and Rajputs of UP. The Volkkalingas in Andhra Pradesh and Jat Sikhs of Punjab.
- In most regions a proprietary caste group owns most of the resources and commands labour from low ranked caste group.

5. Begar is free labour

- It is prevalent in many parts of northern India.
- Members of low ranked caste groups had to provide labour for a fixed number of days per year to the village zamindar or landlord.
- Lack of resources, and dependence on the landed class for economic, social and political support, meant that many of the working poor were tied to landowners in hereditary' labour relationships (bonded labour).
- It is known by different names such as the jalpati system in Gujarat and the jeeta system in Karnataka.
- Colonial Period : Most rural areas were administered through Zamindari System and Raiyatwari System.

6. Primary objective of land reforms in India

- To remove the obstacles which arose from the inherited agrarian structure of the past.
- To eliminate all elements of exploitation & social injustices that existed within the agrarian system, in order to ensure equality of status and opportunities to all sections of the population.
- Various land reforms introduced after independence. (1950's to 1970's)
  - Abolition of Zamindari System : removed the layer of intermediaries, rights taken from zamindars weakening their economic & political position.
  - Tenancy Abolition and Regulation Acts : More security to the tenants, granted land rights to tenants (West Bengal and Kerala).
  - Ceiling Acts : Limits to be imposed on the ownership of land. Ceiling depended on the productivity of land i.e., High productivity land low ceiling, while low productivity land had higher ceiling.

Drawbacks of Land Ceiling Act / "Benami Transfers"

- Most landowners were able to escape from having their surplus land taken over by the state.
- Some very large estates were broken up and landowners managed to divide the land among relatives and others, including servants, in so-called 'benami transfers' - which allowed them to keep control over the land (in fact if not in name).
- In some places, some rich farmers actually divorced their wives (but continued to live with them) in order to avoid the provisions of the Land Ceiling Act. which allowed a separate share for unmarried women but not for wives.

7. A Green Revolution : (1960's & 1970's)

- The Green Revolution was a government programme of agricultural modernisation.
- It was largely funded by international agencies that was based on providing high yielding variety (HYV) or hybrid seeds along with pesticides, fertilisers and other inputs to farmers.

- Green Revolution programmes were introduced only in areas that had assured irrigation, because sufficient water was necessary for the new seeds and methods of cultivation.
- It was targeted mainly at the wheat and rice-growing areas.
- Hence, only certain regions such as the Punjab, western U.P., Coastal Andhra Pradesh and parts of Tamil Nadu, received the first wave of the Green Revolution package.

B. Social transformations that were brought about as a result of Green Revolution

- Agricultural productivity increased sharply because of the new technology.
- India was able to become self-sufficient in food grain production.
- Increase in agricultural productivity especially in Punjab, Haryana etc. It has been considered a major achievement of the govt. & scientists.

C. The negative social and economic effects of Green Revolution

(1st Phase)

- Only the medium and large farmers benefitted.
- Displacement of tenancy cultivators
- Displacement of service caste groups
- Worsening of economic condition for agricultural workers due to rising

(IInd Phase)

- Commercialisation & market - oriented cultivation, leading to livelihood insecurities.
- Worsening of regional inequalities giving rise to intercaste violence.
- Traditional system of cultivation practices and seeds is being lost.

- Environmental hazards
  - The medium and large farmers benefitted from the new technology.
  - This was because inputs were expensive, and small and marginal farmers could not afford to spend as much as large farmers, to purchase these inputs.
  - It was only the farmers who were able to produce a surplus for the market who were able to reap the most benefits from the Green Revolution and from the commercialization of agriculture that followed.

8. Subsistence agriculture?

When agriculturists produce primarily for themselves and are unable to produce for the market, it is known as 'subsistence agriculture'

- Difference between Peasants and Farmers

Peasants : Agriculturalists who primarily produce for themselves and unable to produce for the market are peasants.

Farmers : Those agriculturalists who are able to produce surplus over and above the needs of the family and are linked to the market.

- Transformations in the Rural Society after independence.
- increase in the use of agricultural labour
- shift from payment in kind to payment in cash
- loosening of traditional bonds between farmers and agricultural workers.
- rise of a class of free wage labourers.

9. Circulation of Labour

- The commercialisation of agriculture led to the growth of migrant agricultural labour that circulated between their home villages and more prosperous areas.
- Men migrated periodically in search of work and better wages, while women and children were often left behind in their villages with elderly grandparents.

- Migrants were more easily exploited by the wealthy farmers and were usually not paid the minimum wages.
- These migrant workers were termed 'footloose labour' by Jan Breman.
- These labourers got employment only during a part of the year, i.e., the harvesting time.
- As migrant labourers are not locals and come from poor regions, they were in a weak position relative to employers.,
- Women are also emerging as the main source of agricultural labour, leading to the 'feminisation' of agricultural labour force.

Globalisation, Liberalisation and Rural Society Contract Farming.

The policy of liberalisation that entails participate in the World Trade Organisation, aims to bring about free international trading system.

- Many farmers in regions of Karnataka and Punjab enter into contracts with multinational companies such as Pepsico to grow certain crops.
- The company identifies the crop to be grown
- provides the seeds and other inputs.
- the know how and the working capital is also provides
- Company guarantees to purchase the produce at a pre determined fixed price.
- Negative impacts
- It leads to greater financial insecurity as the farms become dependent on the company for their livelihood
- farming of export oriented products such as flowers and gherkins means that land is diverted from food grain production.
- It disengages people from the production process
- Indigenous knowledge of agriculture becomes irrelevant.
- Production of elite items requires high doses of fertilizers and pesticides which are ecologically not sustainable.

The agricultural 'extension agents' have been replaced by agents of fertiliser and pesticide companies who make the farmers dependent on expensive fertiliser and pesticides thus reducing project and increasing debts and ecological crisis.

10. Farmer Suicides

- Many farmers who committed suicide were marginal farmers because of loss of crop due to disease, excessive rainfall or drought.
- Lack of adequate support of market price unable to bear the debt burden or sustain their families.
- Unable to meet the needs expected for marriage, dowries, education, medical care etc.

CHAPTER 5

CHANGE IN DEVELOPMENT IN INDUSTRIAL SOCIETY

---

1. Features of Industrialisation

- Marx, Max Weber and Emile Durkheim associated a number of social features with industry, such as urbanisation.
- loss of face-to-face relationships.
- Industrialisation involves a detailed division of labour.
- Marx called this situation alienation, when people do not enjoy work, and see it as something they have to do only in order to survive, and even that survival depends on whether the technology has room for any human labour.
- Industrialisation leads to greater equality, in some spheres. For example, caste distinctions do not matter anymore on trains, buses or in cyber cafes.
- In developed countries, the majority of people are in the services sector, followed by industry and less than 10% are in agriculture (ILO figures).
- In developing countries like India, nearly 60% were employed in the primary sector (agriculture and mining), 17% in the secondary sector (manufacturing, construction and utilities), and 23% in the tertiary sector (trade, transport financial services etc.)

2. A. Organised or Formal Sector

- The organised sector consists of all units employing ten or more people throughout the year.
- registered with the government.
- Jobs are secure with benefits.
- Recruitment is more transparent

- there are mechanisms for complaints and redressal.

B. Unorganised or informal sector

- The units need not be registered with the government.
- employees may not get proper salaries or wages, pension and other benefits.
- Jobs are not secure.

3. Mixed Economy

- In mixed economy, some sectors are reserved for government, while others were open to the private sectors.

4. Liberalisation

- Private companies, especially foreign firms, are encouraged to invest in sectors earlier reserved for the government, including telecom, civil aviation, power etc.
- Licenses are no longer required to open industries. Foreign products are now easily available in Indian shops.

5. Disinvestment

- Privatisation of public sector or government companies.
- The government is trying to sell its share in several public sector companies.
- Eg : Modern Foods

6. How Do People find Jobs

- Jobs are advertised - (Time Ascent).
- Through employment exchange
- Personal contacts — self employed plumbers, tutors etc.
- Contractors and jobbers/mistris (Kanpur).

7. A. Badli Workers / Contract work in Organised Sector

- Badli workers substitute for regular permanent workers who are on leave.
- Many of the badli not given the same status and security.

- This is what is called contract work in the organised sector

B. Contractor System

- used in the hiring of casual labour for work on construction sites, brickyards and so on.
- The contractor goes to villages to ask people if they want work.
- The contractor loans them some money, which, includes the cost of transport to the worksite.
- The loaned money is treated as an advance wage and the worker works without wages until the loan is repaid.
- In the past agricultural labourers were tied to their landlord by debt.
- They can break the contract and find another employer.

Sometimes, whole families migrate and the children help their parents.

8. How is Work Carried Out

Task of Manager

- Control workers
- Get more work out of workers

Ways of Making Worker Produce More

- Extend the working hours
- Increase the amount to be produced within a given time period
- Organising work
- Production is speeded up through 'Scientific Management' and 'assembly line'.

9. Scientific Management or Taylorism

- An American called Frederick Winslow Taylor invented the "Scientific Management" in the 1890s, also known as Taylorism or industrial engineering.
- all work is broken down into its smallest repetitive elements, and divided between workers.

- Workers are timed with the help of stopwatches.
- Worker are made to fulfil a certain target every day.

10. A "Assembly line" production?

- Each worker sits along a conveyor belt.
- Worker assembles only one part of the final product.
- the speed of work is set by adjusting the speed of the conveyor belt.

B. Use of machinery actually deskills workers

- The famous sociologist Harry Braverman argues that the use of machinery actually deskills Workers.
- For example, earlier architects and engineers had to be skilled draughtsmen, now the computer does a lot of the work for them.

11. Services Sector

Software professionals are middle class and well educated. Their work is supposed to be self motivated and creative.

- Time Slavery.
- 10-12 hours is an average work day.
- Employees stay overnight in office when faced with a project deadline.
- Long working hours are central to the industry's work culture.

12. Working Conditions of coal miners

- Sub-contracting is widespread.
- Many contractors do not maintain proper registers of workers.
- They avoid any responsibility for accidents and benefits.
- After mining has finished in an area, the company is supposed to cover up the open holes and restore the area to its earlier condition. But they don't do this.

13. Dangers faced by coal miners

Workers in underground mines face very dangerous conditions.

- due to flooding,
- fire,
- the collapse of roofs and sides,
- the emission of gases and
- ventilation failures
- Many workers develop breathing problems, diseases like tuberculosis and silicosis.
- Those working in over ground mines work in both hot sun and rain, and face injuries due to mine blasting, falling objects etc.

Thus, the rate of mining accidents in India is very high compared to other countries.

14. Home Based Work

- important part of the economy.
- It includes the manufactures of lace, zari or brocade, carpets, bidis, agarbattis and many such products.
- work is mainly done by women and children.
- An agent provides raw materials and also picks up the finished product.
- Home workers are paid on a piece-rate basis, depending on the number of pieces they make.
- For e.g., the bidi industry.

15. A. Strike

- In a strike, workers do not go to work,
- To call a strike is a difficult decision as managers may try to use substitute labour.
- Workers also find it hard to sustain themselves without wages.

B. Lock Out

- In a lock-out the management shuts the gate and prevents workers from coming.

16. Two demands of the workers in the Bombay Mill Strike

- The Bombay Textile strike of 1982 was led by the trade union leader, Dr. Datta Samant.
- The strike lasted nearly two years.
- The workers wanted
  - better wages and
  - the right to form their own union

17. Basic features of capitalism

- Means of production are privately owned.
- To accumulate profits.
- Earn more profits by paying less to workers.
- Commoditisation / consumption / commodification

2 MARKS QUESTIONS

6. MARKS QUESTIONS

1. Discuss the changes brought about in the Indian industry due to the impact of globalization and Liberalisation.
2. How has Liberalisation affected employment patterns in India?

CHAPTER 6

GLOBALISATION AND SOCIAL CHANGE

---

1. Globalisation

- It refers to the growing interdependence between different peoples, regions and countries in the world.

The effect of globalisation is far reaching. It affects us all but affects us differently. Thus, while for some it may mean new opportunities, for others the loss of livelihood.

For eg. Women silk spinners and twistors of Bihar lost their jobs once the Chinese and Korean silk yarn entered the market.

2. Global Interconnections not new to world and to India

1. Since the early years, India has never been isolated from the world. For eg: Silk route, which centuries ago connected India to the great civilisations, which existed in China, Persia, Egypt and Rome.

2. Colonial Period

- Greatest movement of people was navigation of people.
- Labourers were taken away in ships to distant parts of the world.
- Slave trade

3. Independent India and the World

Independent India retained a global outlook, even after Independence. For instance migration, export and import of raw material, goods and technology was very much part of development since independence. Foreign firms did operate in India.

3. Dimensions of Globalisation

- Indentured labour work under a restrictive contract of employment for a fixed period in a foreign country in exchange for payment of passage, accommodation, and food.
- Indentured labour was widely used as a source of workers from India for employment on sugar plantations in the Caribbean from 1839, following the abolition of slavery.

4. The Economic Policy of Liberalisation

- The state after independence put in place a large number of laws that ensured that, the Indian market and Indian indigenous, business were protected from competition of the wider world.

- Liberalisation of the economy meant the steady removal of the rules that regulated Indian trade and finance regulations.
- Since 1991, the Indian economy witnessed a series of reforms in all major sectors of the economy (agriculture, industry, trade, foreign investment and technology, public sector, financial institutions etc. As Greater integration into the global market would be beneficial to Indian economy.
- The process of liberalisation also involved taking loans from International and Monetary fund (IMF).

5. Transnational Corporation

- TNCs are companies that produce goods or market services in more than one country. For e.g: Coca Cola, General Motors, Colgate-Palmolive, Kodak and Mitsubishi.

6. Electronic Economy

- Banks, corporations, fund managers and individual investors are able to shift funds internationally with the click of a mouse.

7. Weightless Economy or Knowledge Economy

- In weightless economy products have their base in information, not in the physical production or distribution of material goods as in the case with software, media and entertainment products and internet based services but in their design, marketing, sale and services. For e.g., event managers.

Globalization of Finance

- Due to the information technology revolution, a globalisation of finance, takes place. Globally integrated financial markets undertake billions of dollars worth transactions within seconds in the electronic circuits. There is a 24-hour trading in capital and security markets.

8. Global Communications

- Important advances in technology and the world's telecommunications infrastructure has led to revolutionary changes in global communication. We now have multiple links to the outside world, including telephones (land lines and mobiles), fax machines, digital and cable television, electronic mail and the internet.

- Digital Divide : It exists in situations where some homes and many offices have multiple links with the outside world but some may not have.

9. Globalisation and Labour : Globalisation and A New International Division of Labour.

- In new international division of labour more and more routine manufacturing production and employment is done in the Third World cities — outsourcing.
- Nike shoes founder Phil Knight imported shoes from Japan and sold them at athletics meetings.
- The company grew to a multinational enterprise, a transnational corporation,
- As costs increased, production shifted to Thailand and Indonesia then to India.
- Instead of mass production of goods at a centralised location (Fordism), we have moved to a system of flexible production at dispersed locations (post-Fordism).
- Fordism : Refers to a system of production made popular by the American industrialist Henry Ford in the early part of 20th century. He popularised the assembly line method of mass production in a centralised location.
- Post Fordism : Refers to a system of flexible production of goods at dispersed locations.

10. Globalisation and Employment

- There is uneven impact of globalisation on employment. For the middle class youth from urban centres, globalisation and the IT revolution has opened up new career opportunities.

11. Globalisation and Political Changes

- Political developments that accompanied globalisation were :
  - The collapse of the erstwhile socialist world hastened globalisation.

- the growth of International and regional mechanisms for political collaboration.

Eg: The European Union (EU), the Association of South East Asian Nations (ASEAN), South Asian Regional Conference (SARC) and South Asian Federation of Trade Association (SAFTA).

- The rise of International Government Organisations. (IGOs) and International Non-Governmental Organisations (INGO's).
- INGOs differ from intergovernmental organisations in that they are not affiliated with government institutions, they are independent organisations, which make policy decisions and address international issues. Some of the best known INGOs are Greenpeace, The Red Cross and Amnesty International, Medecins Sans Frontiers (Doctors without Borders).

12. Globalisation of Culture

- Globalisation of culture refers to the mixing of the global culture with the local culture.
- Glocalisation of Culture : Glocalisation refers to the mixing of the global with the local.
- It is a strategy often adopted by foreign firm while dealing with local traditions in order to enhance their marketability.
- In India, all the foreign television channels like Star, MTV, Channels V and Cartoon Network use Indian languages. Even McDonald sells only vegetarian and chicken products in India and not its beef products, which are popular abroad. McDonald's goes vegetarian during the Navaratri festival.

13. Gender and Culture

- Fixed traditional idea of cultural identity defends undemocratic and discriminating practices against women in the name of cultural identity.
- These could range from a defence of sati to defence of women's exclusion from education and participation in public matters.

14. A. Culture of Consumption

- Cultural consumption (of art, food, fashion, music, tourism) shapes to a large extent the growth of cities.
- This is evident in the spurt of growth of shopping malls, multiplex cinema halls, amusement park and 'water world' in every major city in India.
- Advertisements and media also promotes culture where spending is important.

B. Corporate Culture

- Corporate culture is a branch of management theory that seeks to increase productivity and competitiveness through the creation of a unique organisational culture involving all members of a firm.

15. Threat to Many Indigenous Craft and Literary Traditions and Knowledge Systems

- Modern development even prior to the stage of globalisation did make inroads into traditional cultural forms and occupations based on them.
- unable to compete with power looms, traditional craft of weaving are dying out.
- (1) For instance about 30 theater groups, which were active around the textile mills area of Parel and Girgaum of Mumbai city, have become defunct, as most of the mill workers are out of jobs in these areas.
- (2) Some years back, there were large number of suicides by the traditional weavers in Sircilla village of Karimnager district and Dubakka village in Medak district, both in Andhra Pradesh.

Protecting Indigenous Knowledge Systems

- Recent attempts by some multinational companies to patent the use of Tulsi, Haldi, Rudraksha and Basmati rice has highlighted the need for protecting the base of its indigenous knowledge systems.

25. Read the following passage and answer the questions that follow : 66% of India in 15-65 age group.

Not only the bulk of India's population, nearly two-thirds, is in the working age group from 15-64 years, the median age of the country is still just 24 (even it's up from 22 a decade ago) making it a rather young country with a large potentially productive workforce. On both counts, however, there are wide variations across states.

While India might have a whopping 767.5 million in the working age group, the proportion of working age population varies widely from a high of 74.3% in tiny Daman and Diu, to a low of 55% in Bihar where 40% of the population is in the 0–14 age group. It is the same in Uttar Pradesh, another high fertility state, here the working age population constitutes just 58.6% while children constitute 36% of the population.

For India, the proportion of children (0–14 years) is 31%. In low fertility states like Kerala and Tamilnadu, children constitute just 23% and 24% of the population. Of the larger states, Tamilnadu has the highest proportion of population in the working age, 69.8%.

In general, among the larger states, the list of states with a high proportion of the population in the working ages bracket overlaps quite a lot with the list of states generally considered among the more developed.

This is good news to the extent that they are better placed to make 'demographic dividend' pay than others.

(Times of India, 8 September 2013)

- (a) What is demographic dividend?
- (b) Name the states with highest and the lowest working age population. Also give the reasons of such variations found across states.

Ans. Increasing inter-regional economic and infrastructural inequalities.

Private investors generally want to invest in already developed states where the infrastructure and other facilities are better.

The government can give some consideration to regional equity and other social goals rather than just seek to maximize profits.

The market economy tends to increase the gap between developed and backwards regions.

OR

What are the features of civil society organizations?

Ans. The features of civil society organizations are :

Civil Society is the non-state and non-market part of the public domain in which individuals get together voluntarily.

Here individuals take up social issue, try to influence the state or make demands on it.

It should not be a purely commercial profit – making entity.

It includes media institutions, trade unions, non-governmental organizations (NGOs), religious organisations, political parties and other kinds of collective entities.

20. Process of Sanskritisation encourages inequalities and discrimination. Explain 4

Ans. It has been criticized for exaggerating social mobility or the scope of lower castes to move up social ladder.

It has been pointed out that the ideology of Sanskritisation accepts the ways of the 'upper caste' as superior and that of the 'lower caste' as inferior.

Sanskritisation seems to justify a model that rests on inequality and exclusivity. It appears to suggest that to believe in pollution and purity of groups of people is justifiable.

It leads to practices of secluding girls and women, adopting dowry practices instead of bride-price and practicing caste discrimination / against other groups.

The effect of such a trend is that the key characteristics of dalit culture and society are eroded. (Any four)

21. Examine the arguments given by Dr. Ambedkar and Mahatma Gandhi for the inclusion of Panchayati Raj in the Constitution. 4

Ans. Dr. Ambedkar argued that local elites and upper castes were so well entrenched in society that local self government only meant a continuing exploitation of the downtrodden masses of Indian society. The upper castes would no doubt silence this segment of the populations further.

Gandhiji envisaged each village as a self-sufficient unit conducting its own affairs and saw gram-swarajya to be an ideal model to be continued after independence. 2+2

22. Explain the economic policy of Liberalisation. 6

Ans. The term liberalisation refers to a range of policy decisions that the Indian state took since 1991 to open up the Indian economy to the world market.

Liberalisation of the economy meant the steady removal of the rules that regulated Indian trade and finance regulations – economic reforms.

The basic assumption was that greater integration into the global market would be beneficial to Indian economy.

The process of liberalization also involved the taking of loans from international institutions such as the International Monetary Fund (IMF).

The government makes commitments to pursue certain kinds of economic measures that involve a policy of structural adjustments.

There is also a greater say by international institutions such as the World Trade Organisation (WTO).

23. Discuss the ways that strengthened the institution of caste in India under colonial rule 6

Ans. The British administrations began by trying to understand the complexities of caste to govern the country efficiently.

Some of these efforts took the shape of very methodical and intensive surveys and reports.

The most important official effort to collect information on caste was through the census.

Before this kind of intervention, caste identities had been much more fluid and less rigid; once they began to be counted and recorded in became rigid.

The land revenue settlements and related arrangements and law served to give legal recognition to the customary (caste—based) right of the upper castes.

The Government of India Act was passed which gave legal recognition to the lists of 'scheduled' of castes and tribes.

OR

Write a note on tribal identities in India today with special reference to Jharkhand.

Ans. Achievement of statehood for Jharkhand and Chhattisgarh after a long struggle is moderated by continuing problems.

Many of the states of the North-East have been living for decades under special laws that limit the civil liberties of citizens.

Jharkhand and Chattisgarh are yet to make full use of their new found statehood.

Political system there is still not autonomous of larger structures in which tribals are powerless.

Gradual emergence of an educated middle class among tribal communities.

Policies of reservation is creating an urbanized professional class and creating divisions within themselves.

24. Trace the changes that have been occurring in the Newspaper Industry. 6

Ans. New technologies have helped boost the production and circulation of newspaper.

A large number of glossy magazines have also made their entry into the market.

There is a rise in the number of literate people who are migrating to cities.

The needs of the readers in the small towns and villages are different from that of the cities and the Indian language newspapers cater to those needs.

Marketing strategies have also marked the growth as they carry out consumer contact programmes, door-to-door surveys and research e.g., Dainik Bhaskar, Dainik Jagran etc.

English language newspapers have on the one hand reduced prices and on the other hand brought out editions from multiple centres.

Pullouts, supplements, booklets etc are there.

Vernacular newspapers have vastly increased their circulation.

Increased dependence on sponsors of advertisement have led to cuts in prices. (Any other relevant point).

25. Read the following passage and answer the questions that follow : 66% of India in 15-65 age group.

Not only the bulk of India's population, nearly two-thirds, is in the working age group from 15-64 years, the median age of the country is still just 24 (even it's up from 22 a decade ago) making it a rather young country with a large potentially productive workforce. On both counts, however, there are wide variations across states.

While India might have a whopping 767.5 million in the working age group, the proportion of working age population varies widely from a high of 74.3% in tiny Daman and Diu, to a low of 55% in Bihar where 40% of the population is in the 0–14 age group. It is the same in Uttar Pradesh, another high fertility state, here the working age population constitutes just 58.6% while children constitute 36% of the population.

For India, the proportion of children (0–14 years) is 31%. In low fertility states like Kerala and Tamilnadu, children constitute just 23% and 24% of the population. Of the larger states, Tamilnadu has the highest proportion of population in the working age, 69.8%.

In general, among the larger states, the list of states with a high proportion of the population in the working ages bracket overlaps quite a lot with the list of states generally considered among the more developed.

This is good news to the extent that they are better placed to make 'demographic dividend' pay than others.

(Times of India, 8 September 2013)

- (a) What is demographic dividend?

Ans. When the generation of working age group (15-64 years) is relatively larger than dependents.

- (b) Name the states with highest and the lowest working age population. Also give the reasons of such variations found across states.

Ans. Highest : Daman & Diu (U.T.) or Tamil Nadu (State)

Lowest : Bihar

Reasons :

Illiteracy

Ignorance

Development

Lack of technological advancements.

This prompted it to launch 'district dailies' in 1989. These were tabloid inserts of sensational features carrying news from particular districts as well as classified advertisements from villages and small towns of the same. It is interesting to note that the greatest grammarian in Sanskrit namely Panini, who systematised and transformed Sanskrit grammar and phonetics around the fourth century BCE, was of Afghan origin. ...The seventh-century Chinese scholar Yi Jing learned his Sanskrit in Java (in the city of Shri Vijaya) on his way from China to India. The influence of interactions is well reflected in languages and vocabularies throughout Asia from Thailand to Malaya to Indo-China, Indonesia, the Philippines, Korea and Japan. ...We can find a warning against isolationism in a parable about a well-frog-the 'Kupamanduka' - that persistently recurs in several old Sanskrit texts... The kupamanduka is a frog that lives its whole life within a well, knows nothing else, and is suspicious of everything outside it. It talks to no one, and argues with no one on anything. It merely harbours the deepest suspicion on the outside world. The scientific, cultural and economic history of the world would have been very limited indeed had we lived like well-frogs.

Dr. Ambedkar on protection of minorities 'To diehards who have developed a kind of fanaticism against minority protection I would like to say two things. One is that minorities are an explosive force which, if it erupts, can blow up the whole fabric of the state'. The history of Europe bears ample and appalling testimony to this fact. The other is that the minorities in India have agreed to place their existence in the hands of the majority. In the history of negotiations for preventing the partition of Ireland, Redmond said to Carson "Ask for any safeguard you like for the Protestant minority but let us have a United Ireland." Carson's reply was "Damn your safeguards, we don't want to be ruled by you." No minority in India has taken his stand. ## RESEARCH DESIGN-1

TOPIC : YOUTH AND TECHNOLOGY

---

Research Question : Are the teenagers today addicted to their mobile phones?

OR

Hypothesis : There is a growing addition to mobile phones among teenagers today.

STATEMENT OF PURPOSE

Rationalize the reasons for choosing the above research question.

It has been frequently observed that excessive use of mobile phones by the young students have impacted greatly their academic performance, face-to-face interactions have reduced, lot of time has been devoted to it, cameras in the phones have often impinged upon privacy, the model/brand/special features/peer pressure have led to demand for frequent change of phones according to the latest trends.

RESEARCH TECHNIQUE

To know about the above issue, research technique of survey using questionnaire would be the most suitable. I would like to conduct this survey among at least 50 to 60 teenagers of both the genders. A survey across a cross-section of known-unknown respondents would help me generalize and ultimately get an answer to my research question.

The questionnaire would comprise of intelligently framed questions that would aim at finding out how much are the youth obsessed and addicted to this gadget. The questions would be framed in simple language and mainly multiple choice ones so that the respondents find it easy and willing to fill.

Some the questions would be :

1. When did you first get a mobile phone of your own?
2. How much time do you spend on mobile phone?
3. Which features of the phone, apart from making and receiving calls, do you use the most?
4. How many phones have you changed so far?
5. How frequently do you change your phone?
6. What does your choice of mobile phone depend on? trend/brand/cost/features.

Conclusion : After conducting the survey, the responses of the respondents would be converted into quantitative data and represented in the form of bar-graph or pie chart. Based on the detailed analysis, an answer to the research question would be arrived at.

RESEARCH DESIGN–2

TOPIC : ENVIRONMENT AND SOCIETY

---

Research Question : Are most people of urban areas apathetic towards environmental issues ?

OR

Hypothesis : Most people of urban areas are unconcerned and apathetic towards environmental issues.

Statement of Purpose : The above question has been chosen with the aim of finding out to what extent the educated urbanites are unconcerned about environmental hazards and non-participative at individual levels. Certain environmental issues like air pollution, littering, use of plastic bags, spitting and urinating in public, smoking, wasting water etc. have been commonly experienced by most of us. However most of us are passive contributors too. The intention of this research would be to bring about the areas where even the literate and aware population lack in their involvement and contribution of try to improve the situation.

RESEARCH TECHNIQUE

For the above research I would choose to conduct a survey among a random group of about 50 to 60 adults living in different parts of Delhi to find why and to what extent is public responsible for the environmental issues that plague our city. A questionnaire would be prepared comprising of 15 to 20 questions, which would be mainly multiple choice type.

Some of the questions that I would want to include in the questionnaire :

1. What type of transport do you use while commuting daily?
2. Have you ever been a part of car-pool for commuting to your place of work?
3. Do you segregate the garbage of your home into bio-degradable and non-bio-degradable wastes?
4. Do you carry any jute or cloth bag every time you go to buy provisions?
5. Have you ever tried to point out or stop someone from spitting on the roads?

CONCLUSION

After conducting the survey, the responses of the respondents would be converted into quantitative data and represented in the form of bar-graph or pie chart. Based on the detailed analysis, an answer to the research question would be arrived at.

Obama spoke at a White House dinner he hosted to celebrate the holy month of Ramzan. The meal, or iftar, breaks the day of fasting when Muslim families and communities eat together after sunset.

Obama said Ramadan is "a time of reflection, a chance to demonstrate ones devotion to God through fasting, but it's also a time for family and friends to come together".

He said it is a White House tradition to celebrate sacred days various faiths, adding that these occasions celebrate diversity that defines the country and reaffirms the freedom to worship.

Obama said Americans and people in the Middle East also have a common goal for economic opportunity and entrepreneurship.

"We work a little harder, we aim a little higher and we keep striving to create more opportunity for our children and future generations, "Obama said, "Of course this isn't just the American dream, it's the aspiration of people around the world, it's the basic, human desire for progress, to find dignity that comes from, work to give our children something better."

He said these yearnings for economic freedom and opportunity, just as much as political freedom, "are at the root of so much of the change we've around the world in the past few years, including in North Africa and in the Middle East."

"Missing labour in India" - the recent fluctuations in the labour participation of women - is probably due to short-term shifts in activities responding to favourable economic conditions, such fluctuation need to be placed in the context of a structural change in labour participation wherein the share of women in the labour force as well as labour participation rate of women has been declining for the last quarter of a century. Upward social mobility in India patriarchal society in the work of growing incomes is probably symbolised by women's withdrawal from paid labour and their confinement to unpaid domestic activities. Even under such adverse conditions employment growth of women is not stagnant. Those who do enter and remain in the labour market are women from the most vulnerable households, as marginalised informal paid labour, thus feminising the precarious forms of labour in the country.

The caste-based antagonism between the dalit and Vanniyar communities has been present in Tamil Nadu for time. The Vanniyar agitations in the late 1980s were directed not only at obtaining action; but also against the fact dalits were "beneficiaries" of the reservation policy.

The Vanniyar have traditionally been poor, caste community. The socioeconomic state of the dalits in northern Tamil Nadu has been worse. Yet following migrations of upper and middle caste communities to urban areas, many among the Vanniyar become landowners, and dalits farm labourers on 'these lands.'

As a result of reservation, the Vanniyar have improved their socio-economic status and have done well for themselves among the most backward classes. The recent rise socio-economic condition of dalits, sections of whom are moving from labour into various form of urban or migrant work, has created a situation of conflict with the landowning backward classes. This has occasionally resulted in aggressive violence against dalits in several parts of Tamil Nadu in the past decade with the dalits facing attacks largely from the landed backward classes - Vanniyars in the north, Kallars in the south. The ruling Dravidian parties have been unable (or perhaps unwilling) to do much about this issue, for they too derive a fair amount of support from these landed backward communities. These pages had commented ("dalits in Tamil Nadu", 21 July 2012) on the need for a stronger political mobilisation of the dalits in the state.

As a modern republic, India felt duty-bound to "abolish" caste, and this led the State to pursue the conflicting policies social justices and caste-blindness. As a consequence, the priviledge upper castes are enabled to think of themselves as "casteless", while the disprivileged lower castes are forced to intensify their caste identities. This assymetrical division has truncated the effective meaning of caste to lower caste, ths leaving the upper castes free to monopolize the "general category" by posing as casteless citizens.
